[Verse 1]
 G                    C        C#o
If dogs run free, then why not we
 G
Across the swooping plain?
  C              C#o
My ears hear a symphony
G              C7            Bm7-5  E7
Of two mules, trains and rain
  Am                       D
The best is always yet to come
G7              Em7           A7    D7
That's what they explain to me
G                       C        C#o
Just do your thing, you'll be king
  G
If dogs run free

[Verse 2]
G                       C        C#o
If dogs run free, why not me
G
Across the swamp of time?
C              C#o
My mind weaves a symphony
  G           C7           Bm7-5  E7
And tapestry of rhyme
   Am                    D
Oh, winds which rush my tale to thee
```

  G7                    Em7           A7    D7
So it may flow and be
  G                     C         C#o
To each his own, it's all unknown
G
If dogs run free

[Verse 3]
G                       C         C#o
If dogs run free, then what must be
G
Must be, and that is all
C               C#o
True love can make a blade of grass
  G             C7              Bm7-5  E7
Stand up straight and tall
    Am                    D
In harmony with the cosmic sea
  G7                  Em7           A7   D7
True love needs no company
  G                     C         C#o
It can cure the soul, it can make it whole
   G
If dogs run free
```
